

MARCH 2019 THROUGH JUNE 2020

To provide more rapid insight into the impact of COVID-19 on insurance coverage in the Commonwealth, CHIA is producing monthly enrollment data summaries by key market sectors, in addition to its biannual Enrollment Trends reports. This publication includes enrollment figures through June 2020.

In the initial months of the pandemic, overall insurance coverage remained relatively stable, with over 6.4 million Massachusetts residents receiving coverage from private commercial plans, MassHealth, or Medicare.<sup>1</sup> However, early trends through June varied across these insurance categories.

Private commercial insurance plans, which cover over four million Massachusetts residents, declined by 1% between March and June. This was predominantly driven by employer-sponsored insurance (ESI), but individual purchaser enrollment also declined slightly during this period.

Between March and June 2020, the number of individuals with primary MassHealth coverage grew by approximately 50,000, or 4.3%. During this period, the Families First Coronavirus Response Act (FFCRA) mandated Medicaid programs continue coverage for all beneficiaries enrolled on or after March 18, regardless of changes in beneficiary circumstances or scheduled redetermination assessments.<sup>2</sup>

Medicare coverage,<sup>3</sup> which has generally grown steadily over time at 1.5% annually, declined slightly between March and June. Enrollment in SCO, One Care, and PACE programs for dually-eligible members increased 1.7% during this period.

While unemployment claims increased dramatically in the early months of the pandemic,<sup>4</sup> ESI coverage in Massachusetts did not decline at a correspondingly high rate. This is consistent with initial findings nationally,<sup>5,6</sup> and a number of factors could explain this apparent disconnect.

For one, not all those claiming unemployment benefits had coverage through their employer, and for those that did, some were furloughed and may have maintained their coverage. Some already had coverage through a family member's plan, or could have shifted to a family member's plan. Others may have signed up for coverage through COBRA.<sup>7</sup>

Despite these mitigating factors, disruptions to economic activity may impact subsectors of ESI to different degrees, and CHIA is continuing to monitor these developments to better understand the extent to which ESI and other insurance coverage may be impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Massachusetts Enrollment by Health Insurance Category, December 2019 through June 2020

<sup>1</sup> Coverage is defined by unique Massachusetts residents in primary, medical membership within the top 12 commercial payers by enrollment, MassHealth (Medicaid), and Medicare. These counts reflect enrollment for Massachusetts residents and may differ from other sources that report enrollment by Massachusetts contract situs. Membership counts are not exhaustive for Massachusetts; excluded populations may include commercial payers and third party administrators with a small Massachusetts presence, the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program (FEHBP), TRICARE, Veterans Affairs Healthcare, the Indian Health Service, other federal programs, and prisons. This data should not be used to calculate a statewide insurance rate.

Qualified individuals may be required to pay the entire premium for coverage up to 102% the cost to the plan. <https://www.dol.gov/general/topic/health-plans/cobra>

Massachusetts Health Connector data reflects the 1st of the month. Medicare FFS data from CMS reflects the number of Medicare beneficiaries enrolled in the reported month.
- Through March 2020, Other Employer Sponsored Plans (Self-Insured) enrollment was sourced from quarterly supplemental data submitted to CHIA, as well as from the APCD. Beginning in April, CHIA began estimating enrollment for this sector using a combination of supplemental filings voluntarily submitted by some insurers, the APCD, and data collected by the Division of Insurance. CHIA examined the trends observed across these sources, as well as the Large Group (Fully-Insured) subsector, and applied it to the prior period self-insured enrollment figures to arrive at an estimate for the current month.

Notes:

- Coverage is defined by unique Massachusetts residents in primary, medical membership within the top 12 commercial payers by enrollment, MassHealth (Medicaid), and Medicare. These counts reflect enrollment for Massachusetts residents and may differ from other sources that report enrollment by Massachusetts contract situs. Membership counts are not exhaustive for Massachusetts; excluded populations may include commercial payers and third party administrators with a small Massachusetts presence, the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program (FEHBP), TRICARE, Veterans Affairs Healthcare, the Indian Health Service, other federal programs, and prisons. This data should not be used to calculate a statewide insurance rate.
- Enrollment counts sourced from the APCD and Supplemental Data reflect the 15th of the month (approximately 87% of total enrollment in primary coverage). Massachusetts Health Connector data reflects the 1st of the month. Medicare FFS data from CMS reflects the number of Medicare beneficiaries enrolled in the reported month.
- Through March 2020, Other Employer Sponsored Plans (Self-Insured) enrollment was sourced from quarterly supplemental data submitted to CHIA, as well as from the APCD. Beginning in April, CHIA began estimating enrollment for this sector using a combination of supplemental filings voluntarily submitted by some insurers, the APCD, and data collected by the Division of Insurance. CHIA examined the trends observed across these sources, as well as the Large Group (Fully-Insured) subsector, and applied it to the prior period self-insured enrollment figures to arrive at an estimate for the current month.
